PLUST COLLECTION PRODUCT NEWS 2007

Plus will take part at Abitare il Tempo with its decorative lamps and vases collection that represents and expresses the company's contribution in rewriting and redefining the formal concept of inside and outside spaces.

Some projects introduce new uses and aesthetic components to the objects of everyday life, renewing the way we normally interact with them and with the space around us.

A vase is usually defined as a content.

A Plust collection vase instead is a contemporary project, an aesthetic and functional research for a series of products characterized by unusual dimensions. But Plust means still more: complements with an hybrid functionality to play with and change at one's pleasure, objects with different uses and with inner sophisticated meanings to disclose over and over again.

Products are realized in colourful resin, light and resistant designed to become decorative elements for inside or outside spaces. All the Plust collection can also light up and illuminate your moments.
